DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huggins 91346826) in view of Ex.Parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

Huggins teaches a US map with frames on each state (Fig.1), playing pieces (Fig.2), cards with actions to be followed and actions to advance on a surface (Fig.3).

Huggins teaches all limitations except that it does not teach theme/indicia related to movies.

The only difference between applicant's game and cited game resides in meaning and information conveyed by the printed matter and not considered patentable differences.

Whereas some players like to play a history related game, others like to play a movie related game.

In order to make the game attract other players, it would have been obvious to change theme and indicia on game.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested changing board indicia according to other themes to attract players.
